John Flynn Opticians has launched a brand new Eyewear Styling Service for existing and new patients at their practice in Beeston after recently training their team as professional eyewear stylists. This individually dedicated consultation service, offers patients a unique and bespoke eyewear styling consultation to help them to discover their perfect eyewear to suit both their optical and style needs. The consultations are curated by Anne, Annette and Wendy.

The team has been professionally trained in how to assess individual colour analysis, colour psychology, facial and features analysis, style personality and eyewear selection. This will enable all patients to feel assured they are being given an unparalleled consultation service to find them their perfect eyewear. This service adds to the dispensing of ophthalmic lenses by exceptional and superior manufacturers such as Carl Zeiss, Nikon, Seiko, Rodenstock, Essilor (VARILUX, TRANSITIONS), Kodak, Hoya and many others.

Wendy said: "From our experience, we have often found that patients find choosing eyewear a difficult and sometimes daunting and stressful experience. Due to this, we felt it was necessary to invest in a process to better help patients discover and select eyewear which they not only just feel happy in, but delighted to be wearing! Our whole team has recently been professionally trained in becoming experts in eyewear styling and we are delighted to be able to offer this bespoke, brand new eyewear styling consultation service to existing and new customers. Clients of all ages, gender and style preference will now be able to find their perfect and most suitable eyewear in our practice."

Low Vision Service for the Visually Impaired

Optometrist Dr. Janjua recently completed the College of Optometrists acclaimed - Professional Certificate in Glaucoma and also the Professional Certificate in Low Vision from Cardiff University. Together with the support of his staff he has launched a private low vision service using the highest quality

Low Vision aids from Germany. Low Vision is when your sight is impaired, making it difficult to carry out everyday tasks with ordinary spectacles. This can be caused by various eye conditions such as Glaucoma and Age-Related Macular Degeneration (AMD). The aim of the service is to provide individuals who suffer from reduced vision, with a high quality service and products to improve their vision and independence.

Continued Blepharitis and Dry Eye Treatment

A comprehensive dry eye and blepharitis treatment and nutrition plan devised by Dr. Janjua during his doctorate at Aston University in 2017 is continued to be implemented by the staff at John Flynn Opticians who have now been trained in ocular hygiene. Products supplied are by market leaders and often preservative free.

Do you suffer from poor vision or know anyone who may benefit from specialist spectacles and aids?

Do you suffer with dry eye and blepharitis?

Do you want a personal Eyewear Styling Consultation?

Book an appointment with Dr. Janjua and the team today 0115 925 5051

Listen to what our happy patients have to say:

"Just picked up my third pair of specs from Flynn's. I've used them for years and cannot fault them, from the excellent care with my sight test to Annette and Wendy who are on hand to advise, make sure your specs fit and sit properly and just generally make you feel welcome. Nothing is too much trouble. Thank you all. Until my next visit." A. Smith

"I was recommended to come to John Flynn Opticians by family. They have lovely staff who explain everything in detail, much more thorough than other opticians I have been to. I love my new glasses, the shape and the colour. My eye examination was very thorough and detailed and the optician explained what all the technical words meant." R. Fazal

"The service and lenses I get from John Flynn's are so superior to the other opticians I have been to. I like the personalised care and excellent advice as well as the brilliant quality of the lenses. My eye examination with Dr. Janjua was thorough and reassuring. Everyone has been superb in looking after me. It's always a pleasure to come here." A. Qureshi

add rustic charm to your home

SINCE

Hand built to last...

Whether you want to tackle that mountain of shoes at the front door or simply need a place to sit and relax in the garden, The Chunky Monkey has the solution... They also have an exclusive offer for readers of Breeze.

Rustic. Homely. Affordable. That just about sums up this local furniture maker's ever-expanding product range. These well made products are both stylish, yet functional and wouldn't look out of place in any home (or garden!)

Being hand built from super-solid scaffold boards this range of furniture is certainly built to last, add a waterproof, hard wearing wood stain and you have a piece of furniture that will last for years to come.

Small beginnings...

The Chunky Monkey was started by accident. A happy accident of course, but they never meant for it to get as popular as it has. Since their tiny beginnings, they have made hundreds of shoe racks, scores of benches and (literally) a shed load of shelves!

Since then, they have gradually built up their small business, honing their skills and adding to the product range.

At The Chunky Monkey, a good percentage of their work is also commissioned, one-off pieces that suit a specific need, sometimes it's impossible to buy furniture 'off-the-shelf' to fit that awkward space! The quality of their products is down to the passion they have for making them, cutting, sanding, planing, staining... "We just enjoy the whole process and get a real buzz from creating something great out of wood"

So far, their customers agree...

"This is so beautiful that I can't stop looking at it! Such high quality. It is perfect to make you feel home upon the very entrance! I absolutely love it!"

"It has become a beautiful and functional piece of furniture in our front porch. The kids loves it too!"

"Looks great in our hall. Sturdy shoe bench with plenty of space. I love being able to sit on it to put my shoes on! Great quality!"

"Well made and looks great!"

After another bumper year of entries, showcasing the creative talents of Nottingham's young people, the winners of this year's Young Creative Awards have today been announced.

Nottingham's annual Young Creative Awards – is now in its 12th year. The awards are open to anyone aged 11 to 24 who lives, studies or works in Nottingham. There are 11 different categories: Animation & Digital Media, Creative Writing, Dance, Design & Architecture, Fashion & Textiles, Film, Graphic Design, Music, Photography, Theatre and Visual Art.

This year's Young Creative Awards were entered by just under 600 young people from all over Nottingham. 31 talented young creatives (aged 12 to 24) have been named as the cream of this year's crop. Winners receive cash prizes, as well as special showcase and development opportunities.

Past YCA winners include singer-songwriter Rob Green, poet and performer Bridie Squires, dancer Jamal Sterrett Phoenix and make-up artist and Instagram sensation Romanie-Jade Tulloch.

The annual Young Creative Awards always gives a vibrant snapshot of the issues and themes occupying the minds of Nottingham's young creatives, and this year has been no different. Entrants used their creativity to address important issues including racism, gender stereotypes, mental health, homelessness, female body image and, of course, the ongoing impact of Covid-19.

13 year-old Daisy Bartram, from Nuthall, was a winner in the Photography category, commended by judges for her striking images capturing the loneliness of lockdown. 15 year-old Phoebe Anderson, from Gedling, wrote and performed a powerful monologue reflecting on the suicide of a friend – a piece of writing that the Theatre category judges, who named Phoebe a winner, described as “raw, bold, and brave.”

In the Visual Arts category, Nottingham College student Bekithemba Ncube (18) won for his emotive series of collages, inspired by Black Lives Matter protests in 2020. The judges agreed Bekithemba's entry was “dynamic, responsive, and important – a great example of what contemporary art does.”

Nottingham Trent University student Tom Hennegan (21) was judged to be a winner in the Film category for his short, thoughtful documentary about Nottingham-born Richard, who has been homeless for over four years. There was plenty of humour too. 22 year-old Alfie Eyden, from Ruddington, was a winner in the Animation & Digital Media category with his bright and entertaining animation for children which asks the question “What If Humans Had Tails Like A Monkey?”. And 18 year-old Emily Clarkin, who studies at Confetti, won a Creative Writing award for a memorable absurdist script which imagines - with dark humour - a mother and daughter being confronted by a mysterious body part in their kitchen...

The Young Creative Awards is run by registered charity Young Creatives Nottingham. Andrew Tucker – himself a 2019 Creative Writing winner – is now a Trustee of the charity and was one of the judges of this year's Creative Writing category. Andrew said:

“When I entered, the YCAs had become a focal point in the city's creative calendar, with a full-hearted mission to bring new talent to light. Getting the recognition - that someone doesn't think you're wasting your time - is a crucial piece of scaffolding when you're trying to keep at a rickety creative hobby, and even turn it into an eventual profession. “I maintain that it's a brilliant way for Nottingham's young people to grow into their talents and to secure contacts that'll prove valuable. For those who want to launch a creative career, it's an opportunity that must be snatched.”

Other category judges included professional artists, former YCA winners, representatives from key city arts institutions and a range of industry experts. One such expert is Neil Ladkin, Creative Director at Serif (one of the Young Creative Awards' headline sponsors), who was part of the Animation & Digital Media panel.

Please visit our website at www.youngcreativeawards.org for further details including videos celebrating this year's winners and finalists.

SINCE 2002

Now entering their 7th year, The Beeston Film Festival team pride themselves on championing international films from around the globe. Faced with the challenge of the Pandemic, they took to the internet to stream the selected entries and awards ceremony and to ensure the show would go on.

The team at Beeston Film Festival worked hard to prepare their biggest festival once again online, putting all of the amazing films submitted to the festival onto one program.

"It was an amazing effort to make sure all nineteen sessions aired as planned. Filmmaker support during on the on-going pandemic we awesome".

This year, much coveted 'Best in Festival B'Oscar went to Marleen Valien, a Berlin Film Student, for 'A Small Cut'. A hilarious, and incredibly crafted period film about an uptight Jewish finance director of a lavish Baroque court who unexpectedly finds himself forced to convince his hot-headed young ruler to get a circumcision. A classic bold and striking film by a filmmaker determined to make an impact. Original and challenging films is the hallmark of a great festival.

New to this year's festival is the 'Pride' category, uplifting queer voices and giving a platform to present stories of love, struggle, or both. The film industry is crucial in normalizing same sex love.

"We have seen some positive steps, such as Barry Jenkins' Moonlight winning Best Picture at the Oscars in 2017, Céline Sciamma's Portrait of a Lady on Fire becoming an instant classic recently or Cate Blanchett delivering an acclaimed performance in Carol."

The winner of the inaugural Pride B'Oscar, Manchester Pride Parade: The Movie, offers a masterfully crafted look at the legal and cultural history of LGBTQ+ from the past century in Britain.

Showing the arduous fight towards equality helps everyone understand, especially those outside of the queer community, just how hard people had to fight to simply not be arrested for loving a person of the same sex. The second half of the film features people from right now, representing the community and celebrating it at least in this symbolic way.

2021 B'OSCAR WINNERS

If 2021 was great, then 2022 will be fantastic as we are delighted to be partnering with the wonderful Arc Cinema. As the festival hub it will provide a state of the art cinema to showcase the festival's international short films.

Picture from left to right is John Currie, Festival Director, and Senior Programmers, Karen Stainer and Chris Smedley, enjoying the Arc opening night and it's screening of Shane Meadow's 'Somers Town'. In the near future the team will be announcing a regular series of short film nights prior to the 2022 festival. And that festival is already taking entries so if you want to be part of the programming team then email john.currie@beestonfilm.com

A fascinating collection of post WW2 family letters illustrating life behind the Iron Curtain and in England for a German POW...

This fascinating collection of post WW2 family letters takes you on a journey of discovery behind the Iron Curtain in Russian controlled East Germany with Mutti (Mother), dovetailed with life in Leicestershire for her son, POW Hans, and a budding romance. This treasure trove of 950 letters chronicle post-war social history in Britain and Germany from 1946 to 1951. On the one hand between Hans, a POW in England, and his mutti (mother) in East Germany and on the other between Hans and local girl Jean. Hans was a 19 year old German soldier, shot and captured in France in 1944. He was transported to America but was shipped back to the UK at the end of the war. The letters begin as Hans is held in POW camps in Leicestershire where he eventually works as a cook when they become hostels for the Leicester War Agricultural Executive Committee, the LWAEC. Jean worked on the switchboard for the LWAEC (aka 'The War Ag') and lived in Leicester with her widowed mother. The letters detail their blossoming romance against a background of suspicion and secrecy. Hans has the option to return to his damaged and divided homeland or stay in Britain and build a new life as a farm hand at a Poultry farm in Pickwell. Meanwhile his mother and younger brother are struggling to survive behind the Iron Curtain in East Germany. In February 1945, their home in Western Pomerania is destroyed by the advancing Russian army and they are forced to flee with little more than the clothes they stand in. They are now destitute refugees. Her husband is missing, believed to be a prisoner in Russia and she yearns for news of his fate. Through the letters we see her trying desperately to rebuild a life for herself and her son who has become a hardworking hairdresser. Foraging in the fields for food and firewood they struggle to survive. The letters cover the harshness of daily life and the determination to rebuild their home life. She makes several attempts to cross the border to the West in search of a better life. Two steps forward and two steps back challenge Mutti's resolve whilst Hans works hard to build his own future in England.

This talk is given by Angela Klawitter, author of the books "In Search of Home" and "Sending Sunday Greetings" based on this amazing collection of letters from her family.

One ticket is needed per household. Please cancel tickets no longer needed as places are limited. This talk is hosted by the Spirit of Wartime Sherwood project with thanks to the National Lottery Heritage Fund. Attendees will be sent a brief survey following the talk, it would be much appreciated if this could be completed and returned to enable us to provide future activities.

Positive start to 2021 signals bright future for The Sherwood Forest Trust in its 25th year

Nottinghamshire-based conservation charity, The Sherwood Forest Trust, has its sights set on an exciting 2021 after new hires, significant funding and a string of new projects have heralded an exciting first quarter of this year.

The Trust, like many, felt the effects of the pandemic in 2020, but has kickstarted this year with a number of positive developments – which is all the more special, as it is celebrating 25 years of working for Sherwood.

The first is the election of a new Chairman, Andy Statham, who takes over from former Chairman, Terry Yates, after 10 years' service. The Trust has also appointed three new members of staff - Matt Smith as Conservation Manager, Emma Leversedge as Community Conservation Officer, and Katie Doull as Nature Volunteer Coordinator. These new hires will allow the charity to widen its reach and provide more projects to the benefit of its local communities.

Reflecting on his appointment as Chairman, and the Trust's new staff, Andy said, "I would first like to place on record my sincere thanks and best wishes on behalf of the team to Terry for all of his hard work over the past decade. He has put fantastic foundations in place for us to continue to succeed and we can certainly build on those over the coming years."

"I would also like to welcome Matt, Emma and Katie on board as we look to the future and how we can continue to diversify what we do and how we do it - to the benefit of conservation in and around Sherwood Forest."

Andy has big ambitions for the Trust, and has set out his strategy for the coming years - as he goes on to explain. "Despite a challenging past eighteen months I am delighted that the Trust is now in a much better position than it has been for some time, mainly due to the hard work and perseverance of our CEO Patrick Candler and his small team.

Our success in bidding for and being awarded a range of new funding enables us to fully pursue the Trust's goals and ambitions.

With an enlarged and enthusiastic workforce, possessing a wide range of skills and abilities I look forward to engaging positively with our existing partner organisations and stakeholders and developing new partnerships within our broad sphere of operation. The Trust can offer a wide range of expertise and support and it is my stated aim to help develop as many positive and mutually beneficial working relationships as possible."

The Trust also recently received the news that it was the only environmental charity in Nottinghamshire to secure funding from the Green Recovery Challenge Fund - enabling the team to undertake a wide range of new environmental, conservation and community-based projects. These include restoring lowland heathland sites at Sherwood Heath, Oak Tree Heath and The Neutral Ground at other sites.

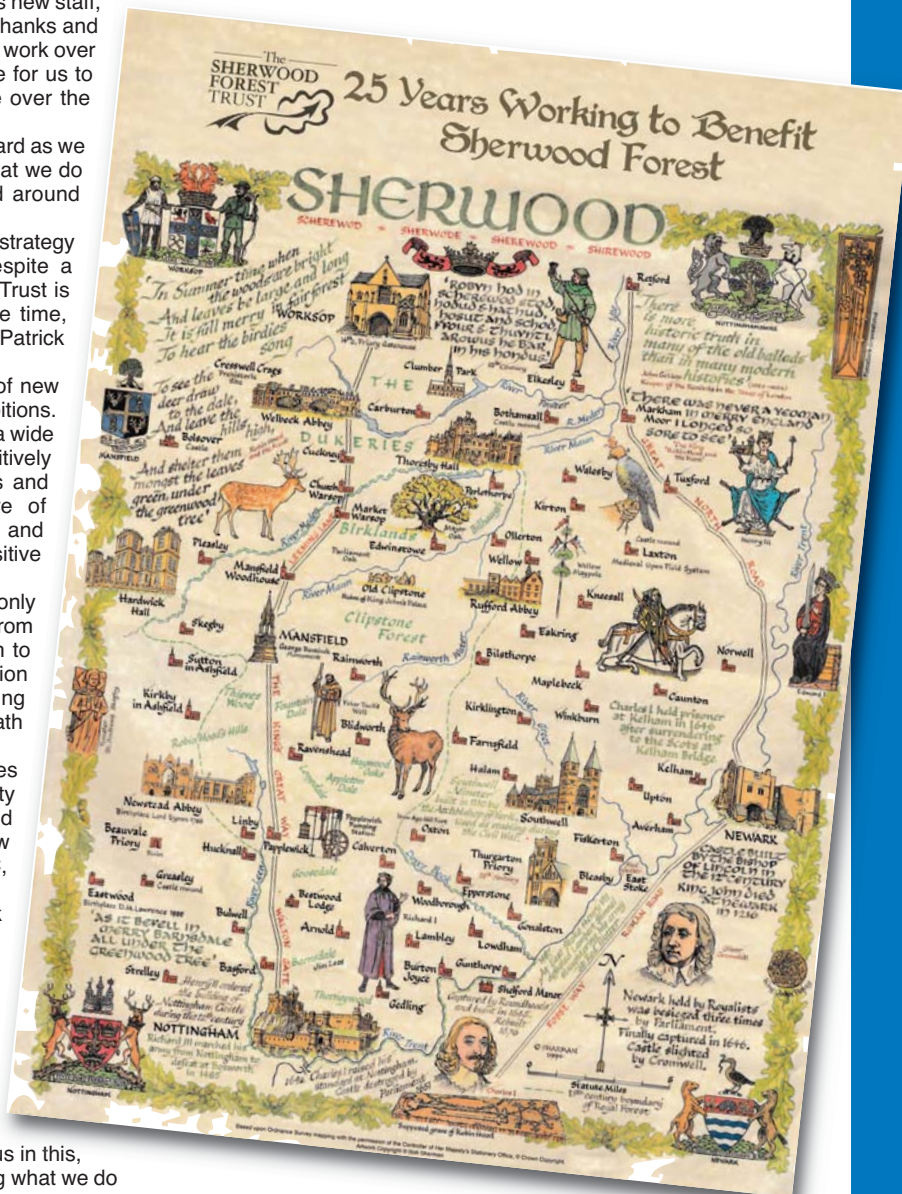

The charity is also planning to work with local communities to improve the environment and undertake new community tree planting initiatives. More than 15,000 trees are expected to be planted in 2021 alone, alongside setting up a new Community Tree Nursery in partnership with the local CIC, Feel Good Gardens.

Sherwood Forest Trust's Chief Executive Officer, Dr Patrick Candler, is delighted with the funding support the organisation has received and is excited by the breadth of opportunity that now awaits it. "As with many organisations similar in stature to ourselves, the pandemic has made a significant impact, but the funding we received from the Green Recovery Challenge Fund has unquestionably helped us through a very tough period," He continues, "We've come out of the past twelve months much stronger - which no one could have foreseen. New staff, a new Chairman and new projects signal a bright year ahead for us in this, our 25th year, and we're excited to get back out there, doing what we do best – building back greener!"

Alongside the regular conservation projects the Trust organises, it also hosts events to mark significant moments in Sherwood Forest's history. Recently these have included virtual talks under the title "Spirit of Wartime Sherwood".

In February, Joanna Foat shared stories from women of the Timber Corps, the Lumberjills, while in April, historian Ria Chambers explained the rationing system and Ministry of Food-led initiatives. More such talks are planned, including a talk from Megan Kelleher from the Commonwealth War Graves Commission about the work of the CWGC and its role in the First World War and beyond.

"These talks are essential as part of our mission to keep the spirit of Sherwood Forest alive," explains Patrick. "While we very much remain focused on conservation and securing the future of the Forest and the surrounding area, we must not forget its past. It's important that we remember its story, and the part that this beautiful setting has played in key moments in the nation's history so that we keep those memories alive for generations to come."

Thanks to a £73,440 grant from funding body FCC Communities Foundation and a contribution of £5,000 from United Living (the Councils' Housing Construction Partner) together with the Borough Council's own funds as part of the Broxtowe Borough Council "Pride in Parks" initiative, the park has seen a £120,000 refurbishment. The grant, awarded by FCC Communities Foundation, was used to completely refurbish the play area at Dovecote Lane Recreation Ground in Beeston with modern, exciting equipment, all set on a rubber safer surface making the area more accessible and available for play throughout the year. Cheryl Raynor, FCC Communities Foundation Local Grant Manager said: "We are delighted to have supported Broxtowe Borough Council in bringing this project to fruition. This is an important facility for local people in Beeston, and we are pleased to see it open and available to use".

Councillor Skinner added: "The play area has been designed to incorporate play equipment and features that were asked for through extensive consultation with local people in summer 2020. The zip line adds excitement and the large wooden fort provides for more imaginative play, plus, we have chosen recycled materials where possible and safe to do so, making sure this park refurbishment is as environmentally-friendly as it can be".

The parks team at Broxtowe Borough Council make every effort to ensure new construction projects are as eco-friendly as possible, to support the council's Climate Change and Green Futures initiative. All the wood, concrete and steel from the old play area was taken away for recycling, the redundant bark surface was reused as a mulch and soil improver. In order to fill the old bark area, 300 tonnes of recycled stone from local demolition works was used. The majority of the play equipment is made from recyclable materials and the main unit is made from Robinia wood, a very durable hardwood grown sustainably in Europe. Even the rubber surface is 70% recycled material, with the area using 30 tonnes of old car tyres, (which is around 3,000 old tyres recycled in total)!

Broxtowe Borough Council are very proud of their parks. With 51% of green space being Local Nature Reserves and many play areas, recreation grounds, and open spaces throughout the Borough, there are plenty of places to enjoy the great outdoors. There are 44 parks and open spaces in the Borough in total, some with playgrounds, open green spaces, walkways, planting and places to sit and enjoy nature.

FCC Communities Foundation is a not-for-profit business that awards grants for community, conservation and heritage projects from funds donated by FCC Environment through the Landfill Communities Fund and Scottish Landfill Communities Fund. For more information please visit www.fcccommunitiesfoundation.org.uk

Colour in our garden can really lift our spirits. It rewards you even further with just a little investment of your attention and regular care throughout the summer. This will ensure your displays look fabulous and continue to give months of visual delight beyond well into the autumn even.

Remember how we have said that planning ahead is the key to a flower-filled garden or patio? Well consider this: whilst most of our summer colour comes from the brilliant displays of bedding plants it is the summer-flowering bulbs - especially dahlias and begonias - that have all the potential to bloom for months on end. Not only having thought ahead and planted them last autumn (hint: think around now what you might like next summer ready to buy and plant your bulbs this autumn!) it is also by checking these seasonal plants regularly and giving them the care they need to ensure their displays continue well into the cooler season to come.

The three things that you need to check are watering, feeding and deadheading and these benefit your bedding plants as well. A quick 10-15 minute check every day or so is all that's needed.

Feed: a general purpose liquid feed (follow the instructions please - don't just chuck it onto the plants!) will go a long way to help matters and it's very inexpensive. Usually watered in every two weeks in high season.

Deadheading: a simple process of plucking off the slumped and spent flower heads to give more nourishment to the new heads that are popping out. Do this as and when each/every other day.

Watering: this should need no introduction: just enough will do: these aren't water lillies! We have mentioned this before but a good basic watering system with a battery powered controller works superbly once set up. Don't just use the 'micro-pipe' that some very cheap set ups provide, use the dual sized arrangement we described previously. This is basically a 13mm feed pipe (all plastic here - no copper) and this 'mains' water pipe is then tapped into using small 4mm tapping inserts that gently screw into the main pipe and allow the small gauge of water pipe to be attached. At the end of each of the 'micro-pipes' is inserted an adjustable sprinkler head. All these are small and do not intrude visually. At the tap end we should have a water pressure reducer (commonly available online & in larger DIY stores) plus a battery powered water timer/valve. You leave the tap open and the auto valve does the rest once you set the times you want the plants watering. No more coming back to withered plants after a holiday, no more tired looking plants after a hot and long day at work (you I mean!). This is probably the best thing you can do for your plants especially those in tubs and smaller pots.

It remains for us to wish you a nice high summer, to stay safe and most of all to get out into the garden and.... Enjoy!

increase wildlife in your garden

keeping it

local

We all love spending time in our gardens, and enjoying the wildlife it brings to them. Research has revealed that engaging with wildlife can lower stress and lead to better overall mental health. Encouraging biodiversity is good for the ecological balance in the garden. The wildlife you attract will also be carrying out a useful function in keeping your garden healthy – whether that's by pollinating plants or by eating pesky plant pests.

Some of these most recognisable British animals and insects are in decline and so anything we can do to help them is very important. Our gardens can be safe habitats for wildlife and even small steps, like introducing homes create shelter and food can make a big difference.

Here we explore how you can take steps to make even the smallest of gardens into a wildlife-friendly zone...

Bees - Bumblebees are by far the most well-known pollinators and without these little buzzing creatures there would be far fewer flowers, fruits and vegetables growing around us. According to a BBC report, bees pollinate approximately 70 of 100 crop species that feed 90% of the world, with honey bees alone being responsible for $30 billion a year worth of food.

However, research by Friends of the Earth has revealed that nearly one in 10 of Europe's wild bee species are facing extinction while 13 species of bee have been lost since 1900 due to having lost much of their natural habitat due to urban development, change of land use and intensive farming. Wildlife gardening has now become high on our agenda with people placing wildlife-friendly products and plants in their gardens and spreading the word about just how important it is to help save Britain's bees.

Butterflies - Butterflies are one of nature's most enchanting and delicate insects and an important pollinator in our gardens. There are about 60 types of butterflies in the UK but they are declining more rapidly in urban areas. A major scientific report from Butterfly Conservation shows that almost three quarters of the UK's butterfly species in the UK have suffered population declines over the last 10 years. A loss of habitat is cited as a major factor, as well as the combined intensification of land use and climate change. Aside from planting butterfly plants in your garden, if you have fruit trees or old fruit in your house, you could help feed butterflies by placing on a plate on the ground or table. Provide them with a safe and relaxing space to drink too by filling a saucer with water and place some stones at the bottom for them to rest their weary wings.

Insects - There are a number of other insects that play a vital role in helping your healthy garden thrive. Ladybirds are one of the popular amongst the UK gardener and can consume up to around 50 aphids a day, meaning that are not only just attractive, but a biological pest control method. Hoverflies are often mistaken for wasps or bees due to their similar appearance. They help with the fight against aphids, thrips and caterpillars so are a welcome sight in the garden.

Birds - Attracting garden birds to your outdoor space is both hugely enjoyable and very rewarding. Just watching them flit from tree to tree and feed helps to regulate our moods and behaviour, perfect for when life is stressful and busy as it helps us reconnect with nature.

Hedgehogs - These prickly mammals are a firm favourite and evoke images of woodland and the British countryside. One of the greatest challenges facing hedgehogs is a lack of connected habitat and unfortunately, numbers in the UK have fallen by around 50% since the start of the century, due to intensive farming disturbing their natural resting and nesting sites, such as hedgerows and field margins.

And with awareness of our spiky friends' plight growing, there's no better time to do our bit to make sure our gardens are hedgehog-friendly. They like to eat beetles, caterpillars, worms, slugs and snails so creating a friendly and accessible outdoor space will give a hog a home.

Hedgehog houses provide shelter and food and can also act as a lovely design feature and focal point in your garden. Gardens are crucial for hedgehogs and other ways you can help include leaving part of your lawn to grow wild as they love hiding in long grass, as well as making a hole in your fence or hedging so they can travel between gardens at night.

Planting for Wildlife - Plants are important to wildlife and our advice is to grow a wide range of plants that offer nectar, food and shelter.

Make sure you add bee-friendly flowers to your patch to create a garden buzzing with activity all summer long. Why not plant rich blooms to help bees find the food they need and create a "nectar café"?

We recommend primroses, crocus, bluebells, lavender, sunflowers, foxgloves, echinacea, salvia, chives, rosemary to provide nectar all through the seasons.

Nottingham homes urgently needed for trainee guide dogs

Sight loss charity Guide Dogs urgently needs volunteers in Nottingham to care for trainee guide dogs, whilst they prepare to become life-changing guides.

The charity's volunteer Fosterers provide temporary homes for dogs, as they complete the latter stages of their guide dog training. Guide Dogs covers the cost of all the food, veterinary care and equipment required for each dog and provides volunteer Fosterers with full training and support.

The organisation is in urgent need of at least 25 new homes in the Nottingham area for its future guide dogs.

Tracey Leigh, Operations Manager for Guide Dogs in Nottingham, said: "This is a great opportunity for an individual or a family to care for a dog, on a temporary basis. "On weekdays, the dog you are caring for would attend training sessions at our specialist centre based in Phoenix Business Park, just outside Nottingham City Centre.

"On weekends, the dog can spend time with you and enjoy time out from training sessions. "After a few months, they will move on to the next stage of their training, eventually becoming a life-changing guide for somebody living with sight loss. "You can then look forward to caring for a new dog, as and when you are ready to do so."

As part of the role, Fosterers would be required to drop dogs at the Nottingham Guide Dogs centre in Phoenix Business Park, just outside Bulwell, on weekday mornings and collect them again in the evening.

A guide dog begins its formal training at around 12-14 months old and, in normal circumstances, most dogs qualify as working guide dogs by the age of two.

Volunteer Fosterers usually care for dogs that are between 14-24 months of age.

The two main breeds the charity uses are Labradors and Golden Retrievers, which are crossed to gain the best characteristics of each breed. A small number of German Shepherds, Curly Coat Retrievers and Labradoodles are also used within the Guide Dogs breeding programme.

Tracey added: "This is an incredibly rewarding volunteering role, suitable for anyone aged 18 or over. "We also welcome applications from people who have other pets at home.

"We're in urgent need of new volunteers as soon as possible. If you're from Nottingham or the surrounding area and think you could help, please do get in touch."

At any one time, Guide Dogs is responsible for 8,400 puppies and dogs across the UK.

If you think you could provide a loving, temporary home for a trainee guide dog in Nottingham, contact Volunteering Coordinator Melanie Brown via melanie.brown@guidedogs.org.uk or call 0800 781 1444.

releasing your freedom

Equity Release can help people whose plans depend on raising a lump sum of money but who don't want to sell up and move.

It's a type of mortgage loan, providing a cash advance for use as you wish and with no need to repay during your lifetime.

Instead, you can let all loan and accrued interest payments 'roll up' for the rest of your life or until you sell your home and move into long-term residential care.

Of course, you must own your home and not have a large outstanding mortgage. And you must be aged at least 55; but the older you are, the more you can borrow.

People increasingly release equity to help their families with property purchase – their inheritance when it's needed most – but the most popular uses are home improvement and boosting retirement income.

Ignore the myths!

The truth is you'll still own your home; and leading providers guarantee you won't have to pay back more than its market price, even if that's less than the amount of the debt.

What's more, if the value of the home exceeds the debt, the surplus is yours – so you can still pass something on to your family.
